SUMMARY OF TRIAL MINING OPERATIONS

7. Please see summary set out in the September report.
8. As advised in September, three controlled blasts yielded 15,000 tons of Run of Mine (ROM) coal from a small test pit. The material was independently sampled and analysed.
9. Unfortunately, the quality of coal was well below expected levels. Accordingly, the 15,000 tons must be considered unsaleable. Active mining operations were suspended on 20 September.
10. Further laboratory tests during October using commercially available reagents indicate that alternative methods to improve the quality of the coal may be achievable. Further tests are continuing.
11. The trial mining period comes to an end on 12 December 2025 and ECC must notify the Company that it is satisfied with the results thereof by this date.
